Chain-o-Lakes, Waupaca, Wis., Sept. 50. The warm weather due here in August is now making September a most enjoyable month, and those who stayed through able month, and those who stayed through the rainy spell say they feel well paid for waiting. The season, despite the rains, has been a most prosperous one, and many transfers of cottages and building sites have taken place, and the values of cottages have taken place, and the values of cottages have increased over 25 per cent the past year. Many cottages will be built bers this winter by St. Louis and Chicago parties, and the Grand View Hotel will build five or six outtages, which will give them a total of sixteen cottages for their guests.

Very few Southerners remain at the Chain-o-Lakes and the next two weeks will see the last of them go.

The last St. Louis family, that of C.
W. Ferguson, left for home the latter part of last week, after a two months' so-bass, the result of two hearing and hunting true with a party of Waspaca hunters, the first of the week.

Bar Harbor, Me.

Miss M. B. Taylor of Galveston, Tex., who is visiting the family of Eyron D. Arms at Maiden. Mass., was seriously injured while riding in a trolley car in West Medford, Mass., Sunday afternoon.

Miss Taylor was occupying an end seat, and when near the Mystic Valley parkway a brick thrown by a boy struck her over the right eye, cutting a deep gash and rendering her unconscious. She was barely saved from falling from the car, which was moving at a raph rate, by a friend with whom she was riding.

The car was stopped and Miss Taylor taken to the residence of a physician, where she received professional help, and later was removed to Maiden. At last accounts Miss Taylor was slowly improving.
